

Dianella BECCA™

Dianella caerulea 'DCNCO' PP18,505

Leaf:

- Bright green foliage
- Medium-textured, strappy leaf blades

Habit:

- 2-2.5 ft H x 2 ft W; Zone 8-11; Evergreen in 8b
- Clumped to slowly spreading perennial with a weeping habit
- Moderate growth rate.

Apps:

- Commercial & Streetscaping
- Group, Border or Specimen Plantings
- Water-wise home Gardens

Bloom:

- Clusters of small purple flowers borne on branched peduncles that sit just above the foliage.

Notables:

- LIKES - Dry conditions; Free-draining soil; Full sun
- DISLIKES - High moisture, and temps below 20 degrees F
- Drought tolerant, heat tolerant, frost tolerant

TUFFY

High Impact
Low Maintenance

One of the earliest improved selections of flax lily, selected because it does not have the tall canes normally associated with Dianella caerulea. Just as tough as the common form, only with a more compact and attractive habit which makes it ideal for commercial and highway plantings. Weeping foliage that slowly spreads by rhizomes. Best in full sun with little to moderate irrigations.

For more info: www.TuffyPlants.com

Offered By:

DIG Plant Co.
(843) 849-1272
smccoy@digplantco.com

dig.
PLANT CO.